The Ayes Have It

Town Meeting reached its quorum and then some when 834 town voters registered Monday night. By Tuesday night, they had reached decisions on 57 items, ranging from the town budget to elected officials' salaries to granite curbs on Abbot Street.

Doyle Conflict With Doherty Continues

By Frank Messina

Controversy, no stranger to Andover Town Meeting politics, wasted little time re-introducing itself Monday night.

Opening night, voters had to wait all of five minutes for the bad blood between Town Moderator James Doherty and the man he defeated in last week's elections, John Doyle, to surface.

Shortly after the meeting was called to order, the two men began a running verbal battle over Doherty's decision to adjourn last year's Town Meeting with six articles left on the agenda. Trying to regain control of the meeting, Doherty twice threatened to have Doyle physically removed from the meeting.

The conflict climaxed Tuesday when Doyle shouldered aside Norma Gammon, who was waiting her turn at the podium, in order to speak to the moderator.

Doherty didn't see the conflict—in obvious shock, Gammon had stepped back without a word—but, hearing cries of concern from the crowd, he asked Doyle if it was his turn at the microphone.

When Doyle replied, "yes," members of the audience reacted with loud jeers, one man yelling out, "You're a liar, you're a liar."

The animosity between the two has existed for several years. Doyle has consistently challenged Doherty's performance at past Town Meetings and last year, their stormy relationship took on hurricane-like proportions when the moderator adjourned the meeting with six articles left on the agenda.

Immediately after the first article passed Monday night, Doyle strode to the podium and rekindled last year's leftover article controversy.

Campaign Chairman Honored

The Merrimack Valley United Fund held its 17th annual Dutch-Treat Dinner in the Central Catholic High School auditorium in Lawrence.

With 1,147 people in attendance Tuesday, March 8, the United Fund honored employee groups throughout the Merrimack Valley and southern New Hampshire whose employees pledged a fair share contribution through payroll deduction during the 1987-'88 fund-raising campaign.

One of the highlights of the evening was the honoring of the area campaign chairmen with an engraved Revere Bowl for outstanding community leadership. Among those recognized was Cornelius "Neal" J. McGovern of Hampton Lane.

McGovern, vice president of the Bank of Boston in Andover, served as the Greater Lawrence campaign chairman.

The Chicago White Sox won the World Series in 1906 with a team batting average of only .230.

Cholesterol Education Week Set

Do you know what your cholesterol level is? Should you care? Those questions Andover health officials hope to raise and answer during a community wide Cholesterol Health Education Week or "CHEW." "During 'CHEW' we hope to motivate people to really digest the facts regarding the dangers of high cholesterol levels and to change their dietary habits in order to lower those levels," says Everett Penney, Andover health director.

Penney emphasized that cholesterol is just one of the risk factors associated with increased risk of suffering a heart attack. "But," he said, "when you combine high cholesterol, obesity, smoking or sedentary life-style it can have an impact on health."

Cholesterol screening clinics for all Andover residents age 18 and older will be held Tuesday, April 12, and Thursday, April 14, from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturday, April 16, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Doherty Junior High School cafeteria on Bartlet Street. A finger stick blood test will be used to measure total blood cholesterol. There is a $3 charge. No fast is required prior to the test. Participants with results over 200 will be referred to their private physician for further testing.

No appointment is necessary. Residents may call Mary Hamilton, R.N., public health nurse, with any questions.

Teachers Schedule Workshop

The Associate Teachers of Andover Public Schools are sponsoring a workshop on Crisis in the Classroom Tuesday, April 12, from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. in the school committee room of the municipal building.

Peggy Cain, a guidance counselor, and Margaret Serley, director of Greater Lawrence Samaritans, will discuss how to identify when a student is having difficulties and what can be done when there is crisis in the classroom.

Secondary Parents Group Meets

The next general meeting of the Secondary Parents Group will be Wednesday, April 3, in the R&D Center of the School Administration Building at 7:30 p.m.

SURPRISE! UNCLE SAM DIDN'T MESS WITH THE 2 BEST REASONS TO HAVE AN ANDOVER BANK IRA.

We believe that FDIC/DIFM insurance protection is one of the most important features of an Andover Bank IRA. Your investment, no matter how large, is safe and secure. And is not at the mercy of stock market fluctuations. Thanks, Uncle Sam.

You should also know that interest earned on your Andover Bank IRA is completely tax-deferred. That means you won't have to square accounts with the IRS until you retire—when you'll probably be taxed at a much lower rate. Thanks again, Uncle.

Although Uncle Sam did mess with your ability to use IRA contributions as a tax deduction, you and your family may still qualify for a tax deduction if you open or add to an Andover Bank IRA. We've been banking leaders in the Merrimack Valley for over 150 years, and we want to make sure our neighbors have an opportunity to take advantage of tax breaks. To open or add to your IRA, to find out about tax implications, or to transfer an existing IRA to Andover Bank, stop in any of our eight convenient offices. And when you do, be sure to ask about our special CD rates for your Andover Bank IRA.

Lawrence Mills Part Of Exhibit

In The Mills, an exhibition of drawings of Lawrence and Lowell by Ralph Fasanella, will be introduced Friday, April 8, at the Addison Gallery of American Art on the campus of Phillips Academy, Andover, with a reception for the artist from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

In The Mills includes 23 drawings and two paintings of Lawrence and Lowell by Fasanella, the New York-based artist who commuted to the Merrimack Valley in the mid-1970s while completing a series of drawings and paintings based on the industrial history of the area.

When he first visited Lawrence in 1974, Fasanella did not have specific plans. He was drawn into the city's history through visits to the Lawrence Public Library and the Museum of American Textile History in North Andover. He began the series of drawings to serve as the connection between his weekday excursions to Lawrence and the paintings, which were executed in his Ardsley, N.Y., studio.

Each painting is preceded by visiting sites and making notations, like the drawings which will be exhibited at the Addison Gallery through June 12.

Fasanella's internationally exhibited works depict the evolution of the American labor movement, baseball and urban life. A self-taught painter, he began working in the mid-1940s and was featured in a one-person exhibition after only six months. Now 73 years old, he has been affiliated with several New York galleries, including Coe Kerr Gallery, ACA Gallery, Jay Johnson and presently Gallery Felicie. His works are represented in the collections of the Hirshhorn Museum, Washington, D.C., and the Fenimore House Museum, Cooperstown, N.Y. The city of New Bedford has also purchased a work describing its labor history.

Telecommunications Broadens Horizons

Editor's Note: This is the penultimate article in a series of articles concerning Andover's computer education plan, written by Kenneth Kwajewski, computer education director for the Andover public schools.

An exciting goal of the computer plan is to use the telecommunication capabilities of the computer to link students with educational resources outside the boundaries of Andover. This year telecommunication stations have been set up at the high school, West Elementary and Sanborn Elementary. Each school is using telecommunications in a different way to link students and teachers across the state and country. High school teachers and students will soon be tapping into national data base libraries to search for educational data. Teachers at West Elementary hope to transmit completed lesson plans that take advantage of both left and right brain learning strategies. Finally, students at Sanborn Elementary are participating in a national science project cosponsored by the National Science Foundation and the National Geographic Society. These projects have demonstrated the versatile use of computer technology.

Students and teachers at the high school will soon be using the Dialog Information Service to search through more than 60 data bases of information. These data bases include information on virtually any topic. There is information on chemistry, agriculture, religion, social studies, engineering and others. Data bases such as ERIC (an educational data base), Dow Jones and the Magazine Index can provide a wealth of information for students and teachers who need to do research. The modem and computer are housed in the library so that this service will be easily accessible to all students.

Training the students and teachers to utilize these services will be an important component. Librarians Jean Pendergrass and Chris McDonald will instruct the faculty and students to correctly use the service. Searching online for information can be an expensive and fruitless experience unless a proper search strategy is developed. Classes at the high school will be trained to use the service properly so that once a student does go online he/she can make an efficient search for information. Media specialist Molly Ryden will assist students and teachers, but much time has to be spent offline defining the problem so the correct data base is searched. Resource material has been purchased to assist students and teachers to develop specific search strategies.

The high school library had the capability last year to tap into Memorial Hall Library to determine the accessibility of resource material, but now our capabilities have been expanded on a national level. Students and teachers can receive partial or full text documents to help them with their studies.

Teachers at West Elementary have been working throughout the year on developing lesson plans that take advantage of different learning styles. The concept is called "4 Mat" since it draws from four distinct styles of learning that can be integrated together. Teachers have developed these plans in the hopes that they would share them with other teachers around the Commonwealth. Many of the school systems that agreed to participate in this program have been unable to establish telecommunication capabilities in their systems. As a result, Andover is looking to establish ties with school systems around the state to share our information.

The last type of use in telecommunication involves June Blake's fourth-grade class at Sanborn Elementary. Her class was chosen to participate in a national science project to study the effects of acid rain. Only 200 classrooms across the country

Western Roundup

By Ellen Cohen

An activity night was held at West Junior High School on Friday, March 25. Students were able to participate in many games, including volleyball, floor hockey, ping pong and basketball. Others spent the evening socializing. A good time seemed to be had by all.

Softball and baseball tryouts were held during the past weeks. The final teams have been chosen and are raring to go for their first games.

The Andover High School Jazz Band and a specialized group from the chorus performed for the entire school on Wednesday, March 30. The band was excellent as was the chorus who did their interpretation of the music from the Broadway smash "A Chorus Line."

The eighth-grade class attended a Chamber Theater Production Inc. performance at the Colonial Theater in Boston on Wednesday, April 6. The term "chamber theater" refers to the staging of a production from a narrator's view. This method was used and was particularly well-suited to the works of the five authors represented in "Encore!"

AT OUR SCHOOLS

Erin Reynolds, Megan Walsh, Beth D'Elia and Lisa Marino play four women waiting for their suitors in a musical skit at West Elementary Thursday.

West Students Celebrate Art

West Elementary School students ended the month of March culturally.

The students' fine arts festival Thursday, March 31 brought an end to Youth Art and Music in Our Schools Month.

Throughout the month, the kids have been studying and producing American folk art. Under the direction of art teacher Sally J. Wolfe and Sindy Weiss, the children designed their own weavings, quilts, traditional decoy ducks and Pennsylvania Dutch hex signs, traditional symbols of prosperity and good fortune.

The children studied works of fine art by folk artists working in the primitive, naive style to inspire their visual reproductions. Musical performances under the direction of Josie Walker, Toula Sparages and Regina Stein, went on during "Wee Folk" night. In addition, folk songs and instruments were played, as students from Arthur Iworsley's physical education class square danced.

Wolfe directed dramas based on scenes from the mid 19th-century painting "The Peaceable Kingdom" by Edward Hicks.

Lindsay Jespersen provides a pantomime of "She'll Be Comin' Around the Mountain."

Mara Schiffrer forgets where to go during a square dance. Helping her figure it out are, behind her, Jason Fredericks, Ashly Murray and Christopher Campos.

Junior High Students Charm Art Judges

West Junior High School students captured art awards in the 38th annual Boston Globe scholastic art competition.

Gold keys and blue ribbons were presented to Patrick Mahoney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mahoney of 100 Argilla Road and Ben Su, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fang Lan Huang of 8 Starr Ave. E.

Helen Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wood of 18 Wild Rose Drive, received a gold key. And an honorable mention went to Grace Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Perry of 81 Dascomb Road.

April Comes To Doherty

Spring sports and cultural activities highlight the April calendar at Doherty Junior High School. The debate club, math club and Academic Bowl Team continue their activities, while members of the track team have begun training for their upcoming season.

Baseball and softball tryouts are underway with the baseball season slated to start Monday, April 18, at home against Lowell and the softball season set to open Wednesday, April 20, at home against Phillips Academy.

The Colgate Singing Group will give a special afternoon performance for the students on Friday, April 8.

Eighth-graders will have a chance to meet and talk with Charles Crawford, noted author, as part of the visiting writers' program. He will spend the morning at Doherty on Tuesday, April 12.

Doherty will sponsor a Comedy Night Wednesday, April 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

An all-school assembly, focusing on a positive approach in dealing with the problems of drug and alcohol abuse, will take place Thursday, April 14. The program, entitled "Take Charge," will provide some thought-provoking material.

Members of the eighth grade recently

were chosen to participate this year. Her students have been working on different activities in preparation for the acid rain unit which will take place this month. Students will take samples of rainfall, measure the acidic content and transmit the data to a national collection site. The data will be compiled, analyzed and transmitted back to participating schools. Students were asked in January to compile data concerning their type and number of pets. The data as compiled and shared by all 20 schools. Students discovered that fish were the most prevalent pets.

Blake has had her students write letters to other students across the country and pen pal relationships are now common. Students use a word processor to write letters which are then transmitted via modem to schools across the country. While I was on line with one student in West Virginia, I told them that or school system was going to have a day off from school the next day due to a snow storm traveling up the coast. She answered back that the students in her school were going to "suck up all the snow out of the air so it would never reach Andover."

The power of telecommunications offers teachers and students many opportunities to expand their learning beyond the classroom. These projects have shown students how easy it is to gather information using the power of the computer. Many students have become excited about using the computer as a tool to communicate with other students across the country. Next year it is our goal to expand our telecommunication capabilities

OLN Student Gets Class Ring

Our Lady of Nazareth students Stacy Melillo and Sandra Sweeney, both of Andover, attended their school's junior ring ceremony Thursday, March 24 in the academy's Emiliana Center in Wakefield.

Members of the junior class, including Melillo, who read the first reading, took part in all the active roles of the liturgy and ceremony.

IF YOU ARE A HOMEOWNER, OUR EQUITY CREDITLINE IS THE ONLY SMART WAY TO BORROW.

HOW THE 1986 TAX REFORM ACT REDUCES YOUR TAXABLE INCOME.*

Non-mortgage consumer loan			Andover Bank Equity Creditline
Year	Tax deductibility	Reduction in taxable income	Reduction in taxable income	Benefits of Equity Creditline
1988	40%	$600	$1500	$900
1989	20%	300	1500	1200
1990	10%	150	1500	1350
1991	0	0	1500	1500

*Sample $15,000 loan at 10% annual percentage rate; chart refers to deductibility of interest. Actual rates may vary.

As of 1988, interest on an Andover Bank Equity Creditline up to $100,000 is fully tax deductible and the money may be used for any purchase or expense. For homeowners, that's the biggest news since the 1986 Tax Reform Act itself, because your Andover Bank Equity Creditline can be used for major purchases like a new car, college education, a dream vacation, or for unforeseen medical expenses—anything you wish. Most important of all, interest payments are fully deductible.

The chart above shows how a hypothetical consumer loan of $15,000 at an annual percentage rate (APR) of 10% will eventually generate no tax deduction at all. The same amount at the same 10% APR applied to an Andover Bank Equity Creditline may lower your taxable income by $1500 each year as long as you meet IRS requirements. Actual APR may vary.

Our Andover Bank Equity Creditline requires no application fees or legal fees. We offer payment plans to fit your needs and charge no prepayment penalty. For more information, call or visit one of our eight convenient Merrimack Valley offices soon. We think you'll agree that for major purchases, an Andover Bank Equity Creditline is the only smart way to borrow.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

It really is amazing, but a baby begins to see as soon as he/she is born. So, right away you as a parent can help your baby enjoy looking at the world around him/her. For instance, bring interesting objects close enough for the baby to see clearly. Handle your baby in ways that help him/her to be alert and interested in you and the objects that are nearby. Carry your baby to objects that he or she can't see well without your help, like interesting wallpaper or flowers in the garden. Very important — show your pleasure when your baby looks at objects carefully, and talk to him/her about the things he/she looks at.

Shopping at TINY TOTLAND is a welcomed experience. Convenient hours. Open 9-5:30. Mon. & Th. 9-9. Do all of your shopping for baby in one convenient stop. Toys for all ages... "heaven to seven". IF YOU'RE A BUSINESS IN SEARCH OF A BANK...

"... Arlington Trust took our business plan and turned it into reality."

Architect: Kallman McKinnell & Wood, Boston
Ceiling Contractor: Environmental Interiors Corporation, Hudson, NH

When Bill and David Shannon decided to form Shannon Corporation in 1985, they submitted a detailed business plan to five banks. Arlington Trust Company was the first to respond to their request for financial backing.

"We represent manufacturers of specialty architectural products for architects working on custom projects," explained Bill. Products like the stainless steel ceilings in Boston's Copley Place Westin Hotel or the specialty metal column covers in the atrium of International Place. "We take the architect's designs and turn them into reality — much like Arlington Trust took our business plan and turned it into reality."

"From the beginning, Arlington Trust Company has given us immediate response... immediate decisions... immediate assistance," said David. "That's the kind of service you need when you have a growing business."

Arlington Trust Company has been responding to the needs of businesses for nearly 100 years. If you're a business in search of a bank, come to Arlington Trust.

Happy Birthday, Sanborn

Sanborn Elementary School celebrated its silver anniversary last month. Principal Eileen Woods said the Friday, March 25 dinner/dance was an evening of memories and an inspiration for the school's future.

Guests, some of whom came from as far away as Washington, at the event included current and former Sanborn parents and teachers, former principals and Parent-Teacher Organization presidents. Woods recognized their contributions to the students over the past 25 years.

The committee who planned the anniversary celebration, held at Indian Ridge Country Club, was made up of Woods, parents Elaine Ciruso, Linda Federman, Patty Torre and Mary Jelson and teachers Bonnie Browning, Karen D'Onofrio.

Superintendent of Schools Kenneth Selfert gave the dinner toast, which emphasized the importance of preserving Sanborn's history. Rep. Susan Tucker (D-Andover) recognized the school with a citation from the House of Representatives and presented it to Woods.

Each guest received a memento — a bronze classic bookmark — and competed in a Sanborn history quiz. The winners were Isabelle Dobbie, Martha Walsh and Rita Olons.

Remember

The Good Old Days?

Are you feeling a bit nostalgic lately, maybe missing the "good old days" of Glenn Miller, Elvis and the Beatles? Then South School has just the thing for you.

The school's Parent-Teacher Organization will sponsor its annual fashion show, "Everything Old is New Again," Friday, April 29, at 7 p.m. at the school, Woburn Street.

Bring your mini skirts and madras shirts for a look back at the fashions of the 1940s, '50s and '60s and a look forward to the new fashions for summer. A silent auction and "white elephant sale" and children's table will be included in the evening's activities. Tickets go on sale the week of April 11. For more information, contact Vicky Mason, Peach Tree Path.

Tax Due

The first installment of estimated federal income tax for 1988 individual income is due by April 15.

The installment should be paid by using declaration voucher 1 in the Form 1040-ES package "Declaration of Estimated Tax for Individuals."

Nursery School Holds Fund-raising Auction

The Community Cooperative Nursery School will hold its annual "Something-in-a-basket" fund-raising auction Friday, April 8 at the North Parish Unitarian Church in the Olde North Andover Center. A variety of items donated by parents, staff and friends will be sold to the highest bidders starting at 8 p.m. with viewing at 7 p.m.

This year, as in the past, there will be many one-of-a-kind items, such as antiques and collectables, art work and homemade gourmet foods. One of the most valued items is supplied by a past nursery school parent, Dr. Kenneth Drizen, who has donated full orthodontic treatment for any one adult or child in the purchaser's immediate family.

Other baskets up for bids will include cooking and babysitting evenings.

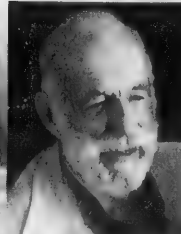

Refreshments will be served throughout the auction. Also, there will be several valuable door prizes awarded during the course of the evening. The auction is open to the public. For further information contact Mrs. Richard Olans of Andover.

PARENTAL GUIDANCE SUGGESTED.

Benjamin Spock, M.D.

Ricardo H. Asch, M.D.

Dr. Jerome Kagan

Eileen Prose

Dr. Tom Cottle

On Sunday, April 10th, you're invited to hear these leading authorities share their suggestions about the birthing and parenting process.

Between 1 and 4 p.m., you can sit in on a wide variety of workshops, covering child birthing, maternity care, infertility, children's health care, childhood behavior, sibling relationships, and parenting.

And at 4, everyone will get together for a panel discussion moderated by Dr. Tom Cottle.

This Community Open House celebrates the opening of New England Memorial Hospital's new Rigsby Maternity Center. And we think it continues our tradition of innovative, family centered health care. So if you have children (or if you're planning to), we hope you'll join us.

Bread And Roses

West Elementary School sixth-graders Angela Roux and Beth Segal practice for the 1988 National Dance Institute "Event of the Year," which will be held at Boston College Friday, May 13. Selected students from the fourth through sixth grades at Sanborn and West have been drilling every week under NDI Artistic Director Karen Pisani Pastore. They will join students from Lawrence and Boston schools for the "Event," a program of original dances based on Lawrence's 1912 "Bread and Roses" textile strike. This marks Andover schools' third year in the NDI, an institute founded and run by former New York City Ballet star Jacques D'Amboise.

Thai Principals Visit Andover Schools

By Julie M. Barry

American Field Service has given the exchange program a new edge. For the first time, administrators are joining in the learning experience.

Tuesday, March 29 marked the beginning of a three-week visit for 16 administrators from Thailand, and Andover High School was the first of the 10 schools they visited.

The Thai administrators are participants in the Educators Exchange Program, sponsored by AFS. They are secondary school principals from various cities in Thailand. "We have come to observe school and to learn about school management, the teaching and learning situation, and activities in high school in Andover," said Kamol Dhisobha, deputy director general of Education for Thailand.

Learning about the United States and the American way of life are also goals of the program, according to Dhisobha. The administrators are staying with host families in Andover and North Andover during their visit.

Andover High School Principal Wilbur Hixon says their school visit began with a general orientation program. This was followed by a musical performance in the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts.

The madrigal chorus and the jazz band put on a special concert for the Thailand administrators.

The madrigals gave the visitors a taste of American culture by singing a variety of songs, including several from A Chorus Line and singing and dancing to "You've Lost That Lovin' Feeling." The jazz band performed some Count Basie and Maynard Ferguson songs.

Dhisobha said the group appreciated the performance very much, especially since bands in Thailand schools are still in the beginning stages.

Following the musical show, the administrators took a tour of the building and participated in classes to observe the teaching methods.

The administrators also visited Doherty Junior High School.

Two of the administrators will be returning to Andover High April 7-8.

'We have come to observe school and to learn about school management...and activities in high school in Andover.'

Bancroft To Hold Auction

Up, Up and Away is the focus of Bancroft Elementary School's major fundraiser, an auction, to be held Friday, April 29, at the school at 7 p.m.

Parents, friends and faculty have donated many unique items. Folk art, calligraphy, silk and dried flower arrangements, children's cooking lessons and handcrafted items will be up for bid.

Second-grade teacher Doug Buchanan has donated juggling lessons and each Bancroft will contribute a special theme basket.

A one-and-a-half-hour consultation for suggestions on improving the resale value of a home and a garden design consultation are two of the services offered. Refreshments will be served.

Mary Elizabeth Nolan may have more spaghetti on her face than in her mouth at Bancroft Elementary's pasta supper

Thursday, March 24 for students and their parents. Mary Elizabeth's older brother, Jack, is a Bancroft student.

Named Commander In Turkey

Maj. Gen. William J. Grove, Jr.

Maj. Gen. William J. Grove Jr., son-in-law of Mrs. Joseph J. Tavern of Andover, will become the new commander of the U.S. Logistics Group at Ankara Air Station, Turkey, in late May. He will be responsible for providing logistical support for all U.S. forces stationed in Turkey.

Grove is currently the Headquarters Air Training Command deputy chief of staff for technical training, a post he has held since October 1986. He is married to the former Sidney Tavern of Andover. They have two children, Sara and Hannah.

Grove, a native of Maryland, was born in 1937. He received his commission as a distinguished graduate of the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps program at Colgate University. He later received a master's degree in business administration from Auburn University. The general is a command pilot with more than 5,500 flying hours and has logged more than 500 combat hours as an F-4 pilot.

Grove has served in a variety of command and staff positions during his 29-year Air Force career. He commanded the Technical Training Center at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill. and was commandant of the Air Force ROTC Headquarters at Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala.

He has commanded the 93rd Bombardment Wing at Castle Air Force Base, Calif., and the 68th Bombardment Wing at Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, N.C.

Grove was named a federal executive fellow at the Center for Advanced Study of the Brookings Institute, Washington, D.C., in the late '70s. He was later assigned to Air Force Headquarters where he served in the Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Operations, Plans and Readiness as the international relations division chief. While there, the general was assigned the additional duty as the Air Force representative to the United Nations Military Staff Committee.

His military decorations and awards include the Legion of Merit, Distinguished Flying Cross, Bronze Star Medal with "V" device, Air Medal with 13 oak leaf clusters, Meritorious Service Medal with one oak leaf cluster and the Air Force Commendation Medal.

Tell Sam to wait!

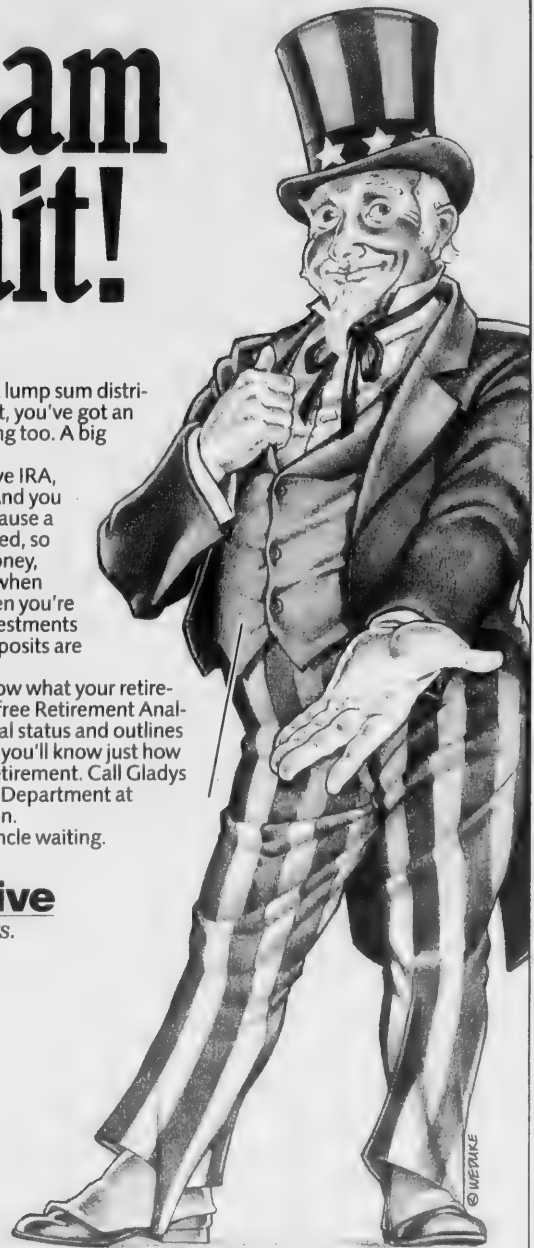

If you've recently received a lump sum distribution with your early retirement, you've got an Uncle who'd like to get something too. A big chunk of your money.

Well, now with a Warren Five IRA, you can tell Uncle Sam to wait. And you can tell him to settle for less. Because a Warren Five IRA is still tax deferred, so you can earn interest on your money, and only pay tax on the interest when you're ready to withdraw it. When you're in a lower bracket. And, your investments will be secure because all IRA deposits are FDIC/DIFM insured.

Violin Virtuoso Featured

The classic Beethoven Seventh Symphony will highlight the Hartford Symphony Orchestra concert featuring 19-year-old Japanese violin virtuoso Kyoko Takezawa at the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts, Shawsheen Road, Andover, on Saturday, April 9, at 8 p.m.

Takezawa, first-prize winner of the Second Quadriennial International Violin Competition, will join the orchestra in playing Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso by Saint-Saens and the Carmen Fantasy by Sarasate.

Maestro Michael Lankester and the 83-member orchestra will open the concert with the Fanfare for the Common Man by Aaron Copland and continue with the Symphony No. 1 by Ellen Taaffe Zwilich, the work that won the 1983 Pulitzer Prize.

Zwilich, the first woman ever to win the Pulitzer Prize in music, will be present.

Born in Japan, Takezawa began her violin studies at the age of three and was participating in tours to the United States, Canada and Switzerland by the age of seven as a member of the Suzuki Method Association. Takezawa won first prize in the 51st annual Japan Music Competition in 1982 and was awarded the Laucadia and

Kyoko Takezawa

Kuroyanagi prizes for the highest quality violin performance.

A native of London, Lankester learned conducting from Sir Adrian Boult and served for six years as Sir Lawrence Olivier's music director at the National Theater of Great Britain.

Tickets are on sale at the Collins Center Box Office, Shawsheen Road, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

ATC To Present 'Deathtrap'

Playwright Sidney Bruhl (Frank Koebrich) and his would-be collaborator, Clifford Anderson (Bill Putnam), check Bruhl's stricken wife, Myra (Natalie McNeilly), for signs of life in a rehearsal for Andover Theatre Company's production of "Deathtrap."

The perfectly marketable play—a five-character thriller in two acts: a playwright would kill for it. So, for that matter, would any of the other characters in "Deathtrap," suspense master Ira Levin's perfectly marketable, five-character thriller in two acts.

"Deathtrap," a tightly-crafted tongue-in-cheek mystery about foul play committed in the name of a play that's more than fair, will be presented by the Andover Theatre Company May 6, 7, 13 and 14 at 8 p.m. on the stage of Memorial Hall Auditorium on Bartlet Street.

The cast includes: Frank Koebrich (as playwright Sidney Bruhl, a role he has performed previously with the Exeter Players) of Exeter, N.H.; Natalie McNeilly (Myra Bruhl), North Andover; Bill Putnam (Clifford Anderson), Methuen; Joy Chesna (psychic Helga TenDorp), Jamaica Plain; and Ron Wackowski (lawyer Porter Milgrim), Andover.

"Deathtrap" is being directed by Kimberly Enders and produced by Ron Wackowski. The production staff includes Dirk Peterson, lighting director; Bob Vernon, assistant director; Marcelle Petitmarie, set designer/stage manager; Jane Vondell, costume coordinator; Barbara Bourgeois and Pam LeMeux, props coordinators; Jude Jennings, house manager; David Bourgeois, business manager; and John Zipeto and Sue O'Neill, publicity managers.

Levin is the author of such widely-known novels as "Rosemary's Baby," "A Kiss Before Dying," "The Stepford Wives" and "The Boys from Brazil." "Deathtrap," written in 1978, is recognized as his most famous and, possibly, his best play.

Tickets can be purchased at the door or in advance through Andover's Department of Community Services, Town Hall, Butler's Pantry, Barnard Street, and Eaton Apothecary, Pleasant Street in North Andover.

To Present Family Concert

Rick Charette

Rick Charette, songwriter, performer and national recording artist, will perform a family concert at Doherty Auditorium Saturday, April 9, at 3 p.m.

Charette composes songs children love and has produced three albums and cassette tapes, including Alligator in the Elevator, I've Got Super Power and Bubble Gum. His performances blend original, contemporary pop music and lyrics with imaginative activities that generate audience participation. In the words of one reviewer, "He had youngsters and parents alike responding to the music with open energetic delight."

The concert is sponsored by Andover Village Nursery School, formerly known as Free Church Nursery School, to celebrate the school's 30th anniversary. The school is the oldest nursery school in Andover.

Tickets are available from parents of students, at the school or at Thompson's Office Products. A limited number of tickets may be available at the door.

Art Festival At Museum

Art in Bloom, a three-day festival that heralds spring with art and flowers, will be celebrated at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, April 26-28. The ladies committee's annual fundraising event will feature a full array of programs, an evening preview party and a benefit raffle of prizes valued at more than $50,000.

Many of the museum's most treasured paintings serve as the inspiration for the floral arrangements that will be displayed to the side of the artworks. Almost every gallery will be filled with flowers arranged by members of 76 Massachusetts garden clubs, each arrangement reflecting its artistic setting.

The fourth annual Art in Bloom Preview Party will be held Monday, April 25. Dance to the White Heat Orchestra and enjoy the music of the Moonbeams, an a capella quartet, Carroll Hill, well-known pianist, and the New Orleans Jazz Band. Guided tours and a silent auction add to the celebration. An Ikebana exhibition in the Japanese Screen Gallery will also be featured. A light supper, wine, fruit punch and cash bar complete this gala evening. For more information, contact the member's room at the museum.

A number of special Art in Bloom events are offered April 26, 27 and 28. A special exhibition in the Japanese Screen Gallery, sponsored by the Boston chapter of Ikebana International of three schools of Ikebana flower arranging, Ohara, Sogetsu and Ikenobo, is included. Preview Benefits Cancer Program

"Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl" will play to a preview audience at The Merrimack Repertory Theatre on Thursday, April 21, at 8 p.m.

Winner of the prestigious Seagram Foundation Award, "Bertha" was selected as the most promising new musical of 1987. Its world premier will take place in Lowell; from there it is hoped it will go to Broadway.

The Greater Lowell Cancer Program is sponsoring this special night at the theater, followed by a champagne reception at The Gervais Buick Showroom, and the opportunity to meet cast members.

Tickets may be obtained from The Greater Lowell Cancer Program, 295 Varnum Avenue, Lowell.

The Greater Lowell Cancer Program is a community-based effort among Lowell General, St. John's and St. Joseph's hospitals and the Middlesex North District Medical Society. It is a fully accredited program dedicated to excellence in patient care, education and research in the Greater Lowell community.

The Greater Lowell Cancer Program complements and enhances the activities of other organizations such as the American Cancer Society, the University of Lowell and the American College of Surgeons.

Boston Ballet In Middle Of Season

The Boston Ballet still has 12 performances left before its season is out.

The company will present a festival of Balanchine pieces through Sunday, April 6. These dazzling works will delight every dance enthusiast. One of the most popular and revered choreographers of all time, George Balanchine revolutionized ballet for audiences and dancers alike. Boston Ballet's Balanchine Festival is a tribute to this 20th-century genius.

A rare story ballet from Balanchine's vast repertory, La Sonnambula is a Gothic romance set to some of Bellini's most heart-rending melodies. This eerie one-act ballet, involving a tragic love triangle, is filled with hypnotic love and jealous rage.

Concerto Barocco is the height of pure dance. J.S. Bach's vibrant and emotional "Concerto in D minor for Two Violins" inspired this lively, lyrical and light-hearted work.

A company premiere, Bouree Fantasque is a dance spectacle for the full company. Each of its three movements has an individual character and quality of motion. This high-spirited and comic ballet is filled with flirtatious humor and vivacious gaiety.

Fortaleza In Concert

Fortaleza will bring traditional and contemporary Bolivian folk music to the North Andover High School on Saturday, April 9, at 8 p.m. to benefit the North Andover People for Peace.

Fortaleza was formed in 1979 by three brothers, Ramiro, Gonzalo and John De la Zerda, in Cochabanka, Bolivia. Their aim was to keep alive traditional Bolivian music, whose roots stem from the Azmara and Inca civilizations. Native Bolivian instruments used include the charango, ronroco, walagcho (ten stringed instruments), quena, quena-quena, sikus (pan pipes), wanga-na (drum) and chullus (made of goat nails). They also use guitar and other instruments.

Fortaleza has recorded two albums in Bolivia and two in the United States. They have performed in coffeehouses, festivals, theatres and universities. Major concerts include Carnegie Hall in New York and Orange Bowl Stadium in Miami. Fortaleza also provided music for the sound track of the movie "Salvador."

The North Andover People for Peace, a non-profit organization working to promote global peace and disarmament, was formed in 1982 with members in Andover, North Andover, Methuen, Lawrence, Boxford and several other communities. The North Andover People for Peace sponsors educational forums, workshops, debates and cultural events.

This program is supported, in part, by the Massachusetts Arts Lottery as administered by the North Andover Commission on the Arts.

To Present Original Works

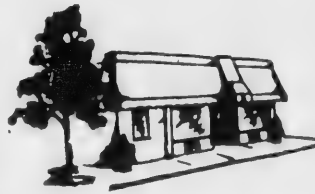

The music department of Phillips Academy will present a concert of original works (music in an American folkstyle) on Sunday, April 17, at 3 p.m. in the Addison Gallery of American Art on the Phillips Academy campus.

The featured performers are "Jonatha and Jennifer." Jennifer Kimball, P.A. class of 1980, and Jonatha Nelson have been performing together for four years. Both performers are graduates of Amherst College where they began their folk concert career as a special project for credit.

"Jonatha and Jennifer" combine unusual harmony and dissonance with funky stage antics and choreography. They reside in Boston where Jennifer pursues her interest in graphic art and Jonatha her interest in dancing.

To Explain Feet First Program

The Brooks School of North Andover is hosting the Independent School Nurses Association spring meeting April 13 with a presentation concerning adolescent head and spinal cord injuries.

Dr. Howard Gardner of Andover, neurosurgeon and president of New England Neurological Associates, medical director of Northeast Rehabilitation Hospital, Salem, N.H., and assistant clinical professor of neurosurgery at Tufts Medical School, will address the preventive medical aspects of neurotrauma. Gardner has sponsored the "Feet First First Time" spinal cord injury prevention program to 5,000 Merrimack Valley high school students for the past two years. Occupational therapist Priscilla Vogler of Northeast Rehabilitation Hospital will demonstrate the actual feet first program. Dr. Lowell Rosman, neurosurgeon of New England Neurological Associates, will discuss acute care management of young people with these injuries while Drs. James Whitlock and David Jaeger of Northeast Rehabilitation *Hospital will explain what benefits rehabilitation an accomplish to overcome some of these serious consequences of trauma to the head, neck and spinal cord. Behavior and learning problems that may follow head injury will be dealt with by Dr. Bennett Slotnick, psychologist, and Dr. Michael Robbins, pediatric neurologist.

Because a head injury will occur in 400,000 people each year, often resulting from sports trauma, they are likely to be first seen by school nurses and trainers. This program is designed to provide specific guidelines and procedures to cope with the emergency situations that arise.

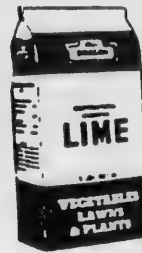

Each year approximately 10,000 people in the United States sustain spinal cord injuries in addition to the head injuries with almost half resulting from sports related accidents. Both types can be seriously disabling physically, mentally or a combination of the two. This program will improve the immediate care of injured high school athletes and prevent many sports related accidents through education.

Newcomers Welcome Spring

Spring is finally here, and the Newcomers Club is planning a luncheon and style show to welcome it to the Andovers.

The club's annual affair will be held Tuesday, April 12 at the Marriott Hotel in Andover. "A Royal Affair" will introduce the latest in spring apparel from sportswear to evening wear from Her Majesty's Shoppe, 1 Elm Square.

The cash bar will open at 11:30 a.m. and serve favorite beverages, including champagne. Lunch will be served promptly at noon. The menu features Caesar salad, breast of chicken Jerusalem with artichoke bottoms and champagne sauce, wild rice pilaf and a bouquetier of fresh vegetables and rolls. The dessert will be an ice cream savarin ring with fresh fruit.

In addition to a delightful luncheon and exciting fashion show, guests will have the opportunity to win door prizes donated by local merchants.

Reservations for the Newcomers Club's biggest affair of the year must be sent to Dolores Gill, 191 Johnnycake St. Andover 01845.

Modeling the spring fashions are Newcomers Club members Ginny Chiaro, Marianne Coleman, Claudia Corcoran, Jill Creutz, Sally Giantris, Linda Hennessey, Carol Krueger, Mary Magliats, Carmen Marquez, Sharon Sharpe, Susan Thorton and Cathy Woods.

Irene Benning is the chairman of the event.

Andover Garden Club members took awards in the New England Spring Flower Show.

Leslie Frost won a blue ribbon for first place, as well as the creativity award, at the show for her design in class 5 — "July — stormy" — of the amateur design section "Viewpoints." The class asked for an assemblage. An assemblage is an abstract design containing plant material and objects that are creatively relaxed through their form, color and/or texture into a new identity having aesthetic unity.

Frost used orchids, palm spathes and fruit, aluminum window frames and an aluminum stand to create her design. She is a master flower show judge, landscape

Wornick To Address Hadassah This Month

Channel 5's Susan Wornick will address the Greater Lawrence Chapter of Hadassah at the Andover Marriott on Tuesday evening, April 26.

Wornick is an award-winning new reporter for WCVB-TV in Boston. She shared an Emmy Award in 1984 for the coverage of the breaking story surrounding the verdict in a controversial trial and shared an Emmy in 1983 for the "NewsCenter 5" coverage of the crash of a World Airways plane at Boston's Logan Airport. She gained national prominence in June 1985 by refusing to reveal a news source, was held in contempt of court and narrowly averted a jail sentence.

October Wedding Planned

Mrs. William Kylberg of Azalea Drive announces the engagement of her daughter, Jacqueline Ruth, to Alfred Lapham, Jr., son of Alfred and Dorothy Lapham of Biddeford, Maine.

Miss Kylberg is a graduate of the Greater Lawrence Vocational School of Nursing. She is the former supervisor/director of Randolph Nursing Home at 102 Burnham Road and now works at Academy Manor Nursing Home, 89 Morton St.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Westwood High School and the University of Massachusetts. He is president of Westwood Landscape Co. in Westwood.

An Oct. 9 wedding is planned.

Getting Married? Tell The TOWNSMAN

Wedding and engagement announcement forms may be picked up at The TOWNSMAN offices, 89 N. Main St.

They must be typed or printed clearly and accompanied by a telephone number in case the editors have questions. Pictures, preferably black and white, are welcomed. They can be picked up after they are published.

There isn't any cost for announcing either an engagement or wedding in the paper. The TOWNSMAN prints these announcements when space is available. Please return the forms promptly.

THE RELIGIOUS COMMUNITY

Baptism Sunday At Vale

The Ballard Vale United Church, a United Methodist and United Church of Christ congregation, will mark the second Sunday of Easter with a celebration of the Sacrament of Holy Baptism. Mrs. Sandi Rehe, a third-year student at the School of Theology, Boston University, and assistant pastor at the church, will be the preacher.

The local assembly of the Rainbow Girls will be special guests.

The annual meeting will be held in Shaw Hall, beginning with a light luncheon, following the service. The Young Adult Fellowship will meet at the church at 3:30 p.m. to leave for Lazarus House where they will prepare and serve the evening meal.

To Observe Holocaust Memorial

The Jewish community will commemorate "Yom Hashoah," Holocaust Memorial Day. It is an occasion to pay tribute to the six million Jews who fell victim to the most brutal acts of Nazi persecution. It was a "war against the Jews" which obliterated Jewish life in most of Europe.

This year is the 50th anniversary year marking the promulgation of a series of anti-semitic decrees by the Nazi regime in 1938, which became the precursors of the "final solution" and the holocaust. Throughout that year, the Nazi regime subjected the Jewish population of Germany and the newly annexed Austria to the most degrading laws. This set the stage for the infamous night of pogroms known as Kristall Nacht from November 9-10 of 1938.

Temple Emanuel will plan meaningful programs throughout the year to pay tribute to the generation of Jewish men, women and children who disappeared along with a culture that is a precious heritage.

Dr. Lawrence Langer, professor of English at Simmons College, Boston, will present "In the Caverns of Memory - Interpreting Survivor Testimonies" at Temple Emanuel at April 14 at 7:30 p.m. This lecture is open to the community.

Christian Singer To Perform

Cheryl Moriarty will be the featured vocalist in a concert at the North Andover Middle School Saturday, April 9 at 7:30 p.m. The concert of contemporary Christian music will be under the direction of David Vose, who is a staff writer for Columbia Picture Publications and a professor at the Berklee College of Music in Boston.

Moriarty's singing has been heard in many area churches, at Harvard's Sanders Theater and on radio stations throughout New England.

Moriarty will be accompanied by several musicians and vocalists, along with special lighting and multi-media effects. The concert will include mostly original music and favorites by Christian artists such as Amy Grant, Sandi Patti and Michael W. Smith.

Soon to be released is a music video, including four of Moriarty's songs, which will be featured at the concert.

The event being sponsored by Century 21 McLennan and Moriarty Realty, and the proceeds will go to the Easter Seal Foundation.

OBITUARIES

THE TOWNSMAN, APRIL 7, 1988

Barbara Henderson

Barbara (Wrigley) Henderson, 60, a native of Andover who had lived in New York City and Boston, died Wednesday March 30, 1988, of a cerebral hemorrhage at Boston City Hospital.

She had worked as the assistant to the chief statistician of the American Banker and was a research assistant with the Tax Foundation Inc. of New York.

She was born in Andover and attended Antioch College in Ohio.

She was a gourmet cook and was a member of the Trinity Church of Boston.

She is survived by a brother, Clifford Wrigley of Andover; her aunts, Alice Jacques and Annetta Wrigley, both of Andover; and several cousins.

Burial will be at the convenience of the family in Spring Grove Cemetery.

John Stewart Duguid

John Stewart Duguid, 81, of Hudson, Fla., and formerly of Lowell Street, died on Dec. 22, 1987, at Bear Creek Nursing Home in Hudson.

Mr. Duguid was born in Scotland in 1905 and moved to the United States with his family in 1913. He owned a home in Andover from 1943 to 1964, living in Dallas, Texas from 1951 to 1956.

Mr. Duguid was educated in the Milford, N.H., schools and at the Hawley School of Engineering in Boston.

He was an employee of several Massachusetts power plants in the Lowell and Andover areas, and in Dallas.

Mr. Duguid was a member of the William North Lodge and the Blue Room Engineer's Club of Boston. He was a member of West Parish Church, and later, the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover.

He is survived by his wife, Florence, of Hudson, Fla.; three daughters, Florence Hill of Staten Island, N.Y., Lorraine Fitch of Silver Springs, Md., and Marilyn Nigh of Elicott City, Md.; nine grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. His fourth daughter, Jean DeBrakeleer of Londonderry, N.H. passed away in 1978.

Mr. Duguid's ashes are to be buried at the Fox Hill Cemetery in Billerica, Mass.

Alice I. Benoit

Alice I. (Lambert) Benoit, a secretary who worked for many years in the area despite crippling arthritis, died April 4, 1988, at Brigham and Women's Hospital, Boston.

Mrs. Benoit, 89 Morton Street, was 76.

Mrs. Benoit worked for many years as a secretary. For 12 years she was employed at Bolta Rubber Co. and later at the International Y's Men's Club (a support group for the YMCA).

Most recently, Mrs. Benoit worked for Dr. Mauray Tye, a dermatologist with offices in Haverhill and Lawrence. She worked in the front office as receptionist and typist in the Haverhill office.

Born in North Andover, she lived in Methuen most of her life. Mrs. Benoit attended St. Monica Church, and she was a deeply religious person, the Rev. Allan E. Roche, pastor of St. Monica, said.

The widow of Edward C. Benoit, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Laurence A. (Jean A.) Cookson of Andover; sisters,

Citizens Approve 14-Percent Budget Increase

By Julie M. Barry

Andover citizens approved the requested $49.5 million annual budget at the Town Meeting Monday night. This is a 14-percent increase over last year's operating expenses.

Several warrants, which required funds, were also approved by the town. This amounted to approximately 1 million additional dollars, according to Anthony Torrisi, finance and budget director. The total town budget for next year is approximately $50.5 million.

The 14-percent increase is unusual. Typically, the budget increases between seven and nine percent. But, according to Joanne Marden, chairman of the Finance Committee, Andover has experienced such enormous growth that the tax base has grown; it is more than 3 billion dollars. Marden says there's more property to tax. This enabled Andover to fund a larger budget within the restraints of Proposition 2½.

Marden stressed that supporting the 14-percent increase will not require more than a five-and-a-half-percent increase in the property tax rate, and she expects the increase in operating expenses to fall back to eight or nine percent next year.

The increase isn't being used for "a wild spending spree," Marden said. Instead, she says it's necessary to continue the level of services that are currently being offered by the community.

Marden cited several reasons for the increase — the rising cost of health insurance, solid waste tipping fee, special education and transportation.

In addition, Andover is improving services and supporting many new ones, such as the downtown shuttle bus, the children's room at Memorial Hall library, and the senior day care program, Marden said.

"You're getting more, but you have to pay more," she said.

Laurence Picardi, Jefferson Lane, attempted to amend the budget. He suggested a nine-percent increase over last year's budget, rather than the proposed increase of 14 percent.

This reduction would have cut $2.5 million from the overall budget.

Moderator James Doherty suggested that Picardi amend the individual sections of the budget as they were discussed, rather than trying to cut the overall budget.

Selectman Gerald Silverman explained that committees would have to rework their budgets if an overall budget cut was made.

Discussion continued and the budget was moved on a line-by-line basis; however, the only amendment made was directed to the school department.

David Birnbach, former School Committee member, made a motion to reduce the increase from 14 percent to nine percent, but this motion was defeated.

The following budgets were approved as requested.

- General government — $1,651,027
- Municipal maintenance — $2,931,617
- Public safety — $5,695,806
- Public Works — $5,505,163
- Community Development and Planning — $798,105
- Library — $1,295,205
- Greater Lawrence Technical School — $119,842
- School department — $20,386,389
- Community Services — $584,114
- Unclassified, consisting of a compensation and a reserve fund — $215,000
- Fixed costs — $10,385,687

The fixed costs include, among other things, the cost of health insurance for town and school employees, which has increased 60 percent for fiscal year 88.

Schools Get Biggest Chunk Of Town Budget Pie

By Julie M. Barry

The school department received the largest portion of the town budget — $20,386,389. The School Committee pledged to take care of neglected needs such as equipment and textbooks, with the large increase in this year's budget.

The budget for the schools evoked much discussion from the floor.

David Birnbach, a former School Committee member, attempted to amend the request. He suggested lowering the increase in operating expenses from 14 to nine percent; this would cut about $905,000 from the requested budget, he said. According to Birnbach, the smaller budget is adequate.

Although some audience members agreed with Birnbach's view, the majority favored the 14-percent increase.

School Committee Chairman Donald Robb explained the rationale for the budget request. He said the major increases are in the areas of textbooks and equipment.

Previously, the School Committee has worked to maintain a low teacher-to-student ratio, Robb said. "Now for the first time in years, we can also equip those teachers," he said. "It (the budget) enables us to take care of some neglected needs."

The Finance Committee supports this view, and in turn, supports the school budget. Joanne Marden, FinCom chairman, said the school's requests are usually rejected due to financial constraints, but, she says it's always understood that additional funds would be raised if possible.

"This year, we can address needs and address complaints that occur from year to year," Marden said.

Another concern raised was future funding of the budget. Since the base is increasing, some questioned the annual tax rate increases necessary to sustain the enlarged budget.

But, according to Robb, a large portion of the money is being spent on needs that incur a one time only cost; therefore, he says it won't be necessary to continue to increase the budget by 14 percent.

Marden says she expects the increase in operating expenses to fall back to eight or nine percent next year.

After listening to both sides of the argument, an overwhelming majority of citizens voted to support the school budget request.

In addition to the budget, the school department will receive $50,000 to finance a school building needs study. The town voted to approve this warrant even though FinCom opposed.

The article states that a Building Study Committee will assess current facilities, review town maintenance department plans for long range building upkeep, and assess the future needs of the school system based on population and curriculum plans.

Quorum Bylaw Questioned

The town bylaw which requires 350 registered voters to take action on all warrant articles at Town Meetings was scrutinized at Tuesday night's Town Meeting.

Article 54 was geared towards the Town Meeting quorum. It attempted to revise the existing bylaw but was defeated.

The warrant stated that a quorum of 350 registered voters would be necessary to open each session of any annual or special Town Meeting. However, it added that a quorum would not be required to continue or complete the meeting.

Norma Gammon, chairman of the Town Meeting Improvement Committee, said the article's intent was to make Town Meeting run smoother.

Gammon also said the purpose of the warrant article was to get input from the town of Andover.

Opinions of the townspeople varied.

Some agreed with the amendment, saying that those who wished to participate had the option to do so, and that 350 voters weren't necessary.

The majority, however, were against acceptance of the article. Several reasons were expressed for their disapproval.

Some mentioned that since 350 is a small percentage of the more than 15,000 registered voters, the quorum requirement should be maintained. Others pointed to the democratic and civil duty of people to vote.

Too many unanswered questions regarding the amendment was another concern.

Initially, the Board of Selectman recommended approval. But after hearing the voters concerns, the board changed its stance to disapproval.

Other bylaws approved at Tuesday night's meeting were the Mandatory Recycling and the All Terrain Vehicles (ATV).

•Andover has joined in the effort to recycle.

•Regulation of ATV's sparked some interest at the meeting. The danger and noise caused by ATV's were the basis for the suggested regulation.

A warrant article requiring regulation was removed because Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said there is an existing bylaw in Andover that mandates ATV usage.

Mahony did say there were enforcement problems.

Upon Moderator James Doherty's request, Mahony said he will show the bylaw to Police Chief James Johnson, and ask him to enforce it.

OPINION

THE TOWNSMAN, APRIL 7, 1988

The Time Has Come

It seems rather obvious that town meeting as it currently exists in Andover, and more than likely other communities, has outlived its usefulness.

This year's session has been farcical at certain points with personal outbursts between John Doyle and his obsession with the moderator, James D. Doherty.

Tuesday night's scene when Doyle literally shoved Norma Gammon aside to grab the microphone was simply ludicrous.

But these scenes and asides from the conduct of the town's municipal business are not the essence of why town meeting is no longer a valid way to operate a multi-million dollar municipal operation.

Despite those who contend, rightfully, that town meeting is the truest form of democracy, it just doesn't work anymore, due to the fact that control of controversial items remain in the hands of those who can muster the most support.

Think for a moment about a couple of major items on this year's agenda, the collaborative school issue and the Abbot Academy conversion proposal.

There was considerable interest expressed in the Lawrence-Andover Collaborative school before it was finally decided to withdraw it from consideration until additional facts could be presented.

But, had the issue been presented, then the decision as to whether Andover would join in the project would have been made by those who could come up with the sufficient number of people to sway the decision.

As this is written, the decision on the Abbot Academy campus has not been made.

But, in that case as well, the decision will be made by those who can curry support through numbers.

Several years ago a proposal to develop the campus into a life-care facility was defeated mainly through the efforts of neighbors of the property who didn't want the development. They got the numbers.

Low and moderate income housing proposals fall into the same category.

As long as neighbors oppose such issues and can obtain sufficient numbers of people to sympathize with their cause, Andover and other communities will have little or no control over how their municipalities operate or keep up with modern times.

In this year's warrant are a number of so-called nuisance items--articles placed at the whim of people who desire to impede some process or block some proposal.

They are time consuming in the overall town meeting process and ultimately serve no useful process.

The town has a special, appointive committee charged with the responsibility of improving town meeting.

Rather than looking into ways to improve it, time seems to dictate that such a committee should look into ways to eliminate the system as the manner in which the community is administered.

This being the computer age, it seems unlikely that the town meeting system is the manner in which communities should be run.

Talk Of The Town

Just A Thought

By Bob Finneran

Since this is town meeting time in Andover and the commentary next door has to deal with whether or not the particular system is still valid, it seems appropriate to mention that in other times there were various things that made such sessions somewhat enjoyable.

There were times right up until recently when many 'major' appointments were announced on the town meeting floor.

Among them, the fence viewers. In actuality in their original responsibilities, the duties of such appointees was to designate property lines and such. But in later years, these annual appointees were looked upon as having to stand back a bit and peer at the type and size of the fence, adjudging whether or not the quality was suitable for the neighborhood, etc.

Then there were those who were named field drovers.

Source of the actual designation has escaped memory, but the principal duties of these people were to corral errant sheep and get them back in the fields or barns.

One might suppose that this particular occupation should be reinstituted, in view of the fact that local police often are called to rope an escaped horse. A field drover could be called from his computer station in emergency, to get the straying stallion back to his pasture, rather than deterring the local constabulary from its crime-fighting duties.

It always was interesting how the million-dollar items passed through without debate while some poor guy who wanted a sewer extension for a couple of grand and would be paying through betterments on his own, was denied.

Or, like one year in Andover when the snow budget was debated at length, a resident rose and asked to speak directly to the highway superintendent.

Stanley Chlebowski, then the head of the highway department, nervously rose and was queried, 'Just how much snow are we going to have next year?'

After a substantial audience guffaw, Stanley replied 'I don't like public speaking, and I've never talked to God, so I can't give you an answer,' s the budget passed.

And, there was time in North Andover when a neighborhood squabble arose over the placement of a small foot bridge over a brook.

The opposing neighbor informed the moderator that such a convenience was unnecessary because he could relieve himself at least half way across the brook.

The moderator slammed the gavel and said he was out of order.

The speaker agreed and added that if he was in order he could make it all the way across the brook.

One of the finest moderators I have ever seen was Arthur Thomson of North Andover.

He would finish a warrant, regardless of length, within an afternoon, beginning at about 1 p.m. and adjourning pretty generally before six.

The year that the regional vocational school was to be acted upon by the participating communities, the legislative act creating the district had to be approved by secret ballot at the town meeting for North Andover, Andover and Methuen.

Since balloting is a lengthy and tedious process, everyone figured Thomson would lose his reputation for getting the annual session over within a single day.

He was equal to the task.

When the question came to a vote, the moderator informed the audience that, indeed, this would have to be done by secret ballot, but if there were no objections in the house to the proposal, the letter of the law would be met.

He asked for a voice vote.

There were no objections.

Thomson crouched down behind the podium, cast one affirmative ballot, the remainder of the agenda was completed and the residents were home in time for a traditional Saturday night supper of franks, beans and brown bread.

Them days, however, are gone forever!

THE PUBLIC FORUM

THE TOWNSMAN, APRIL 7, 1988

Stand Back

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

The concept of creating a so-called "collaborative" school between Andover and Lawrence has become a critical issue in the recent local elections and promises to consume much ink and discussion until it is finally accepted or rejected. We will do well to stand back a bit and look at what the real problems are with this idea; problems that no one, so far, is willing to expose.

At one time this school was going to be a "magnet school" although that term is not used any more. I think most people quickly asked themselves the question: "If this is to be a magnet school, do the other schools repel students?" This was immediately followed by a second: "If the powers that be know how to make one magnet school, why are they not making every school a magnet?" Since there are no administratively comfortable answers to these questions, the description had to change. Now we have a "collaborative" school.

Well, there are still questions. What collaboration and with whom? Are we about to begin collaborating with educators from Lawrence in a way that could improve education? If so, why wait for a new building to be built, let's collaborate for the benefit of every student. Is the proposed collaboration a name for the interaction between Lawrence's and Andover's select student bodies? Then, leaving aside the obvious question as to whether any significant educational improvement would result therefrom, we need to ask again, why wait for a new building to be built if we know how to improve education with student collaboration? Let's collaborate right now.

Apparently there are some difficulties for our educators in beginning the collaborative benefits now. One must be that we don't really want Lawrence kids mixing with Andover kids in the current environment; only in a separate setting, with new "innovative" rules, can this work its intended magic. Maybe busing kids from Lawrence to Andover would look too much like a 'METCO' experiment. Maybe busing kids from Andover to Lawrence is simply out of the question.

This last brings up another question. Is the process of mixing school-age populations only feasible in the cocoon of a slick new school with experimental programs? In fact, is it really only possible where the Lawrence students come to Andover? Would this whole lead balloon simply plummet to earth if the proposed school were in Lawrence? Is there a belief guiding this proposal that says the we (superior beings) in Andover have a social obligation to allow some of our advantage to rub off onto they (inferior beings) from Lawrence? If not, why not put this school in the Riverwalk complex at a savings of $25 million? Is the answer to this that Andover can only conceive of going to class with Lawrence kids in a posh, elite setting that we can control? Think about it.

We already have a perfectly viable collaborative school now, in case you've forgotten it. It's called the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High School—the 'Voke.' It's a damn fine school. There's no reason why a new academics-based unit couldn't be added there with a select group of students from all four communities taking part. The administration already exists; the phys-ed facilities already exist; the cafeteria already exists. Why duplicate these things? Are we afraid that our Andover grade As might have to share rest-room facilities with some kids who know how to repair cars and do body work? Will the whole magnificent "cultural experience" lose its value if an aspiring electrician or plumber has lunch with us? What hypocrisy.

Why does this proposal have the shape it has? I think that what we are seeing is a perfect administrators' solution to problems in education: build a new school, appoint new administrators, set up another autonomous budget. This collaborative school will do absolutely nothing to improve education that can't be done in existing buildings, but it will surely increase opportunities for administrative types. In order to sell the concept, however, the paid proponents had to coach it in the appropriate liberal, social-engineering terminology that colors so much thinking in the Andover area; plus a structure of volunteer advisers had to be created to accommodate the honestly high-minded movers and shakers. I strongly suspect that once the building exists and the budgets are set, these "advisers" will be smilingly and firmly and, I feel, unfortunately, relegated to the sidelines.

We will do much better for our children's education if we could just get back to some of the educational basics that are sorely missed: 1. We need a well-designed and operated system of reform-type school to which the really troublesome, frequently addicted kids that are preventing teachers from succeeding with their mission could be assigned. 2. We should get back to truly honoring our teachers by putting them back in charge in their own classrooms. We spend so much time seeking to identify super-teachers in order to pay them some sort of bonus, when really almost all our teachers could do superb work if they were fully backed and supported by our administrations. Placing teachers in untenable situations vis a vis certain students can douse quickly the flame of illumination. As I have said before, we should only hire teachers whom we can trust sufficiently to have final authority over who may attend their classes; and, if we are unable to find such teachers, then we should hire new administrators who are willing to trust.

Finally, if we really can obtain 25 or 30 million dollars, let's put it in a trust fund and use the proceeds to fund new programs, better materials and higher standards all around. A new building in particular will never take the place of, or even be the cause of, these things.

Reopen Abbot

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Perhaps I'm a "voice crying in the wilderness." After reading all those letters deploring the passing of Abbot Academy into oblivion, I'm saddened by the absence of any single voice raised in favor of simply reopening Abbot as a revival of the great school it was for so many years past.

Abbot was too great an institution to be allowed to wither away. I'll never forget the superb Miss Hersum who called on my new bride and me in the 1930s to wish us well, hoping that this one of her girls would remain always loyal to the old school.

Now that Andover Academy is co-educational, the Andover youths need no longer descend with seductive intent on a renewed Abbott, leaving it in an atmosphere more conducive to its classic purpose, preparing the cream of young American girlhood for the top echelons of society.

Will some visionary millionaire please step forward and confer a great blessing on New England by taking over the magnificent plant suffering from neglect and give it a rebirth as possibly the best and finest of all American girls' schools?

William B. Elmer
(An Abbott Husband)

Eye Pleasing

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Have you ever noticed how verdant and eye-pleasing the triangle at Central and School Streets is in the spring and summer? If memory serves me correctly, one of the garden clubs in Andover took the initiative to plant and beautify that area.

Wouldn't it be great if the same could be done for the "Gateway to Andover," that is, the triangle at the intersection of Andover Street and Dascomb Road? It could be a beautiful entrance to a beautiful town.

Baseball Tryouts Scheduled

The Andover Blue and Gold Pony League baseball teams will hold their annual spring tryouts Saturday, April 30, and Sunday, May 1, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Andover High School varsity and junior varsity fields.

All youngsters between the ages of 13 and 15 years are eligible to try out. No candidate may turn 16 years of age prior to August 1. All positions on both teams are open with returning players required to earn their way back on their team.

All 13-year-old players should report to the high school at 1 p.m. both days and be prepared to work out until approximately 3 p.m. All 14 and 15-year-old players should report at 3 p.m. and be prepared to work out until approximately 5 p.m.

The Andover Blue and Gold squads compete in the two-division Greater Reading Pony League against teams from Stoneham, Wilmington, North Reading, Lynnfield and Reading. The season usually begins in mid-June and runs through mid-August. Players trying out should be ready to make a commitment for that time period.

Blue is the defending league co-champion, having tied Lynnfield for the overall league title last summer, and has placed first in its division during the regular season three straight years.

Andover Gold won the Greater Reading Pony League championship in 1985 and 1986. Last summer AG won its division title during the regular season for the third consecutive year, but lost a one-game semifinal playoff to Lynnfield to snap a string of four straight league titles (two in the Greater Lawrence Babe Ruth League, 1983 and 1984).

Gold has also won five league championships in six years before Lynnfield snapped the string of successes.

Blue and Gold will play league schedules of 14 to 18 games and may play several non-league and/or pre-season games.

Hollander Wins Gold Medals

Eleven-year-old Ivan Hollander won two gold medals in the Andover Gymnastics Competition. His best work was in the floor exercises, where he showed his unique style.

Ivan qualified for the state finals during the regional competition of the U.S. Gymnastics Federation, competing in Amherst May 7 and 8.

He is a Pike School fifth-grader.

There is also the possibility of some post-season tournament play at various locations around the state in August, although a final decision will not be made until the season begins.

Any player not making either Pony League team will have the opportunity to try out for the Andover Senior League and 13-year-old players picked for the Blue or Gold may also play in the senior league, if they desire.

All candidates are reminded to wear baseball shoes and bring a glove to the tryouts.

If a third tryout is deemed necessary, it will be held the following Saturday, May 7, and that day will also be reserved in case of a rainout.

Any youngster unable to attend at least one of the scheduled tryouts should contact one of the team coaches. Joe Iarrobino and Red Harris will coach the Blue team while Rick Harrison and Dan Grams will coach the Gold.

Anyone wishing further information may contact any of the coaches or Andover Youth Baseball Association official Dick Allard.

Swimmers Compete At Brown

Members of the Andover-North Andover YMCA swim team competed in the New England Regional championships at Brown University, Providence, R.I., March 26 and 27.

The Class D swimmers had eighth and ninth-place finishes overall for the boys and girls, respectively.

Todd Walters led the boys with a fourth-place finish in the 50 yard butterfly and an eighth place in the 100 yard individual medley.

Adam Schoen placed 11th in the 100 yard freestyle. Walters and Schoen teamed with David Green and Adam Moskal for a sixth-place finish in the 200 yard medley relay and with Green and Ian McArthur for eighth in the 200 yard free relay.

Betsy Bronstein and Margaret O'Brien swam to tenth-place finishes: Bronstein in the 50 yard breaststroke and O'Brien in the 50 yard backstroke. They joined Tracy Grant and Sandy Choe to finish eighth in the 200 yard medley and freestyle relays.

Jason DerAnanian, Jeff Danis, Ray LeMoine and Michael Gallaher brought home the gold in Class E in the 100 yard freestyle relay and were sixth in the 100 yard medley relay.

LeMoine added a fourth-place finish in the 50 yard freestyle and was seventh in the 25 yard butterfly.

DerAnanian was 12th in the 25 yard freestyle.

Jenelle Bryan was seventh in the 25 yard butterfly and 14th in the 50 yard freestyle for the Class E girls.

John Dwight was 16th in the 200 yard freestyle in Class C.

The medley relay team of Vani Rastogi, Michelle McCarthy, Allyson Pollier and Jennifer Munro was tenth in the 200 yard event in Class B. Munro added a personal tenth-place finish in the 200 yard freestyle.

Film Series
"He Makes Me Feel Like Dancin'" is the film to be featured in Memorial Hall Library's Friday Film Series on April 8 at 7:30 p.m. This film shows Jacques d'Amboise, one of the greatest dancers in American ballet history, auditioning and rehearsing boys and girls. There will be no film shown on April 1. All films in this series are free and open to the public.

If the sum of all starlight that falls on earth could be concentrated in one object, it would equal a 100-watt bulb seen from a distance of 613 feet or the length of two football fields.

Bantam Gold Ties And Wins

Andover's Gold and Blue teams played to a one-all tie with no scoring in the first period. The Blue team scored first in the second period on a booming slap shot from the point by Todd Allard. The assist went to Peter O'Shea. The Gold came back within two minutes with a power play goal on a Kevin Smith backhand from a feed from John Melillo. Peter Vaill also picked up an assist on the score.

The two teams played strong defense and excellent goaltending the rest of the way.

The Gold team played a strong defensive game against Tewksbury with the defensive pairings of Jonathan Shine, Kevin Smith, Chris Pothier and John Constantine. Andover took an early lead on a wrist shot by Jay Coburn from the right side of the net on a pass from Colon Nix. Tewksbury was held scoreless until late in the second period on persistent play in front of the Andover net. The one-all tie held up until Bob Dalton and Melillo paired to score the game-winner in the third period on a two-on-one break with a pass from Melillo to Dalton. Brian Novelline played extremely well in both games.

Baron's Country Store support made for an exciting season, bringing the Bantam Gold team into the Valley League playoffs.

Jeffrey Shupe of Andover has completed the winter season as a junior at Norwich University, the nation's oldest private military college, in Northfield, Vt., where he was a diver on the 6-3 men's swim team. Shupe, a 1985 graduate of Andover High School, is majoring in business management. He is the son of Richard and Roberta Shupe, Salem Street.

Free Golf Offered

For the fourth successive year, selected Essex County golf courses are offering free golf to those who purchase a Golf Privilege Card from the American Lung Association of Essex County.

Some restrictions apply, depending on the golf course, but the green fees and practice sessions are worth more than $125.

Participating courses include Amesbury Golf and Country Club; Crystal Springs Golf Course, Haverhill; Far Corner Golf Course, West Boxford; Garrison Par 3 Golf Center, Haverhill; Lakeview Golf Club, Wenham; Middleton Golf Course; Rolling Green Golf Course, Andover; Rowley Country Club; Salem Municipal Golf Course. Added this year are free practice sessions at Billy Max Golf School in Lawrence and Ed Whalley's Driving Range in Peabody.

Screening

Dr. Mark Macklis, gynecologist, will provide a free screening exam for detection of breast cancer at the Regional Health Center in Wilmington on Tuesday, April 19, from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. Bridget McCane-Duerr, health education, will follow-up on self-breast examination, including film, handouts and models for practicing self-exam. The screening will be one hour long; 10 minutes with the physician and 45 minutes with the health educator.

This program is co-sponsored by the American Cancer Society. An appointment is necessary.

The Regional Health Center in Wilmington is a division of Choate-Symmes Health Services.

Child Care Panel Planned

The Greater Lawrence Council for Children will host a public forum entitled "Who Cares for the Children: Creative Response to Child Care Needs," on Wednesday, April 13, at 7 p.m. at the Lawrence Savings Bank, at the intersection of Routes 28 and 133 in Andover.

In recognition of the increasing need for affordable, quality child care, the council has assembled a panel of experts to identify current child care issues and creative responses to them. Elizabeth Thompson, director of the Child Care Circuit, the North Shore's child care resource and referral center, will address current child care needs in Greater Lawrence. Rep. Susan Tucker, State Representative from Andover and longtime supporter of children's issues, will address the public response to child care concerns using legislative advocacy as a tool for change. Tony Sapienza, vice president of Grieco Bros., Inc., will address employer-sponsored child care as a private sector response to child care need. As founder and board president of Merrimack River Child Care Center, he will highlight how employer-sponsored day care benefits employer, employee and child alike. Caroline Cole, editor and publisher of the North Andover Citizen, will offer a parent's perspective on quality child care.

A documentary entitled "Who cares for the Children," produced by KCTS/Seattle, will be shown. This documentary takes a close look at contemporary child care issues in America and explores the changing face of the American family and how these changes have placed additional demands on child care services. Issues such as availability, affordability and quality child care will be examined. The program will conclude with discussion wrap-up and refreshments.

This forum is being sponsored in conjunction with Human Rights Awareness Month, a community-wide effort to acknowledge and celebrate human rights, and Child Care America. Each year the council participates by promoting children's rights in some way. Mary Ann Gaschnig, community representative, explains, "Without a vote or real power, children's rights often are overlooked. Adults as well as children need to recognize that kids have rights too." Child Care America is a multi-media campaign sponsored by national public television to heighten awareness of the growing need for child care. WGBH/Channel 2 will sponsor a variety of events in the coming months.

The Greater Lawrence Council for Children is a volunteer organization comprised of citizens who advocate for children's issues in Andover, Lawrence, Methuen and North Andover. For more information, contact Gaschnig.

Ted and Fred Teichert

The Sport Shop: Suiting Up For Spring

Ted and Fred Teichert are ready for Spring. There are balls, bats and gloves for the Little Leaguers. Shin Pads, cleats and balls for the soccer players. Softball enthusiasts will find a variety of uniforms to suit their local team. Yamaha, Donlop and Bard are but three of the brands of racquets available at the Sports Shop for all of you tennis lovers.

The Sport Shop carries the largest selection of sports shoes in Andover. Nike, New Balance, Footjoy, L. A. Gear, Reeboks, Ryka and Vans are brands stocked and you will find every style needed for running, tennis, football, soccer, baseball, aerobics and more.

"Andover" sweat pants are available in kid sizes 6-8, through adult sizes, in navy on grey, navy on white, or gold on navy and you can pick up a sweat-shirt to match. "Andover" jackets are available, as are a variety of clothing for Phillip's students including t-shirts, sweatshirts and socks. Runners will find shorts and shirts that are perfect for Spring weather.

Skateboards continue to be a popular item and you will find plenty of them at The Sport Shop along with Skate Gear protective items.

The Sport Shop is headquarters to buy, trade and sell sports memorabilia. Baseball cards are strong collectables and a wide variety of Donruss, Fleer, Topps and Sportsfics are stocked, including boxes, albums and bags in which to store them. Chef Louis Juliano and Head Chef/Manager Larry Lawson

Kelley's Seafood & Steakhouse: A Gourmet's Delight

Kelley's Seafood & Steakhouse has always meant fine dining. But, when Larry Lawson came on board as Head Chef and Manager, fine became finer.

Continual up-grading of Kelley's being top priority of owner Edward DerKazarian, led to the addition of Chef Louis Juliano, of Cambridge, MA. However, Chef Juliano comes to Kelley's direct from Woodland's Country Club, located in one of the most affluent suburbs of Houston, Texas. Combining the talents of these two gentlemen has created the finest menu ever offered at Kelley's.

Thursday evening will be "Gourmet Night", however, gourmet entrees will also be offered on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings, in addition to their regular menu. To whet your appetite, allow me to list some of the tantalizing dishes to be served during the next few weeks:

- Steak Au Poivre
- Veal Marsala
- Coquille St. Jacques
- Chicken Cheseapeake
- Shrimp Kabob Marinade
- Beef Wellington
- Filet of Haddock Oscar

- Veal Marengo
 - Grilled Salmon Steaks
 - Beef Roulades
 - Lamb Chops DiJonaize
- plus many more.

Chef Lawson reminds us that all seafood is fresh from the docks - never frozen - and Lobster Specialties are a year 'round treat for all to enjoy. Don't miss the Lobster Thermador! It's truly an epicurean delight!

Come to Kelley's Seafood & Steakhouse at 178 Main St., North Reading and get a taste of what's new! Tel. 664-2103 Olga Jenkins-Price

Generic Drugs

Massachusetts Secretary of Elder Affairs Paul J. Lanzikos reminds elders that generic drugs are a safe and cost-effective alternative to brand-name drugs.

According to a public health fact sheet published by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, cost comparison studies indicate that using a generic product can save up to 60 percent of the cost of the brand-name drug.

The Federal Food and Drug Administration requires generic drugs meet the same claims of equivalent brand-name products and that they include warnings and information on labels and package inserts. Interchangeable Drug Law, originally enacted in 1971, offers standard prescription options:

If the physician writes "no substitution" on the prescription, brand-name drugs only may be dispensed.

If the physician does not write "no substitution" on the prescription, the pharmacist must dispense a less expensive generic product.

If the physician writes the generic name on the prescription, the pharmacist may dispense either a brand-name or a generic product.

Once a prescription has been written, the pharmacist must follow the instructions.

For more information on generic drugs, contact the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, Division of Food and Drugs or the Executive Office of Elder Affairs.

Concert At Gallery

The music department of Phillips Academy will present a concert of music for guitar on Sunday, April 10, at 3 p.m. in the Addison Gallery of American Art on the Phillips Academy campus.

John Major, a member of the music faculty, will perform. A composer and improviser, he has appeared in concert on the east and west coasts of the United States and in master classes of Julian Bream, Michael Lorimer and Abel Carlevaro. His composition, "Sea Changes," was published by Lorimer in his series of New American guitar composers.

The program will include "Nocturnal," Op. 70 by Benjamin Britten and "El decameron negro" by Leo Brouwer.

The Addison Gallery of American Art operates as a museum in the traditional sense and an art center for the school and community. In addition to exhibits of painting, sculpture, photography and crafts, it produces concerts by faculty and students in cooperation with the Phillips Academy Music Department. The public is invited to attend this concert. There is no charge for admission.

Office Hours

State Sen. Patricia McGovern, or a member of her staff, will conduct office hours in Andover next Monday.

A session is scheduled from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Andover Senior Center and another from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library.

In Our New Andover Facility,

The Only Direction You Can Move Is Forward

When you get in on the ground floor of this start-up facility, the only way to move is forward. As one of the nation's leading biopharmaceutical companies, Genetics Institute has just opened a brand new, first-of-its-kind manufacturing plant in Andover, MA. Dedicated to the large scale, clinical manufacturing of human therapeutic agents in the areas of hematology, oncology, orthopedics and cardiology, Genetics Institute will provide you with dynamic opportunities to make significant strides in your career.

If you are looking to move your career forward in such an environment, please consider the following opportunities:

Plant Operators

We are seeking high school graduates, recent or otherwise, interested in science to join our pharmaceutical manufacturing team. Plant Operators' daily duties include the following:

- cleaning and maintaining process equipment in compliance with Standard Operating Procedures
- washing glassware
- preparing media for production
- documenting and monitoring the production process
- maintaining data and production records

Experience in pharmaceutical production a plus, however, we will train interested individuals. Positions are available in Cambridge and Andover. All positions involve rotating shift work with premiums paid for 2nd shift and weekend work.

As a member of our group, we'll provide you with the autonomy, the challenges and support you need to develop your talents to their fullest. Our comprehensive benefits package features vision insurance, dental insurance, free T pass or parking, a full exercise facility, day care assistance and three weeks' vacation that can be used within your first year of employment.

Get a direct line to opportunity by calling Genetics Institute at 876-1170, ext. 196, 87 CambridgePark Drive, Cambridge, MA 02140. We are conveniently located next to the Alewife MBTA station.

MASSACHUSETTS
THE TRIAL COURT
THE PROBATE AND FAMILY COURT
Essex Division
Docket No. 88P0649-E1
Estate of Harold G.
Dimlich late of Andover in the County of Essex.

NOTICE

A petition has been presented in the above-captioned matter praying that a certain instrument be probated purporting to be the last will of said deceased by Benjamin F. Dimlich, name in said will as Benjamin Dimlich of Bourne in the County of Barnstable, praying that he be appointed executor thereof, without giving a surety on his bond.

If you desire to object to the allowance of said petition, you or your attorney should file a written appearance in said Court at Salem on or before 10:00 in the forenoon on May 2, 1988.

In addition you should file a written statement of objections to the petition, giving specific grounds therefore, within thirty (30) days after the return day (or such other time as the Court, on motion with notice to the petitioner, may allow) in accordance with Probate Rule 2A.

Witness, Thaddeus Buczek, Esquire, First Justice of said Court at Salem, the twenty-ninth day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighty-eight.

REALTOR

ON BATHROOMS

If you think the number and style of bathrooms have little to do with the value of a home, think again. Early in this century an agent might have said, "It's hard to sell a house WITHOUT a bathroom." Today, he or she will say, "It's hard to sell a house with only ONE bathroom." Just ask the family that has had to endure a one-bathroom house with growing children. Two and a half bathrooms seems to be everyone's dream figure.

Bathrooms with outside windows are far more appealing to buyers than interior baths with vent fans, but better an interior extra bathroom than none at all.

Walk-in shower stalls are preferred to shower-over-tub arrangements, but most people want at least one bathtub in the house. Ceramic tile is preferred to formica, fiberglass or vinyl paneling. Bathroom vanities are becoming a must. Double sinks are a plus as are full-wall mirrors behind the sink/vanity. Wallpaper is preferred to paint. That's your primer on bathrooms.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at the HOWE AGENCY, 4 Pynchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

REAL ESTATE GUIDELINES

By Beverly Kimball, G.R.I. & C.R.B.
Realty U.S.A.
Schruender Real Estate

RENTING YOUR HOME

Often, our clients have second thoughts about selling their homes, especially if they don't need the equity to complete the purchase of a new one. "We'll just hang on to it and rent it out," they say. While rental real estate is almost always a good investment, be sure you understand all of the consequences before you become a landlord.

Remember that tenants may not share your pride of ownership, they are sometimes rough on property. You should also acquaint yourself with state or local landlord/tenant laws, including those dealing with rent control and eviction procedures. Finally, if you are planning to rent a home that used to be your primary residence, you could lose the benefits of your capital gains deferral if you sell it a few years from now. Before you make a decision about turning your home into a rental property, it's a good idea to get professional advice, both from a tax expert and from your Realtor.

If you are considering a move, contact the professionals at Realty USA Schruender Real Estate. Call us at 685-5000 or stop by our offices at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover.

LANDOWNERS!

It's time to do "deep hole" and "perc" tests.

Development of land requires extensive testing and planning. It often requires months to obtain construction approvals for single family homes. Soil tests must be performed during the spring months to gain septic system approvals.

Contact our office for a free consultation in obtaining these approvals for your home construction or to substantially increase the value of property you intend to sell.

It is extremely important to act NOW if you intend to buy or sell land during the coming year.

The Key to Results in Real Estate

Cold Shoulder For 'Big Brother'

By Frank Messina

Andover residents rejected two articles that called for videotaping and/or audio recording meetings of the selectmen, planning board and other official gatherings.

One voter saw it as peeking-over-your-shoulder, "Big Brother" legislation. Others believed the article would simply make town government more responsible to its people.

Although several voters detailed personal bad experiences in trying to get taped copies or transcripts of past meetings, town officials unanimously supported dumping both proposals.

Article 28 called for tape recording all selectmen's meetings at an annual cost of $2,000.

The proposal was easily defeated, in large part because of the presence of Article 34, which would have set aside $4,500 yearly for videotaping meetings of the selectmen and the planning board.

Several voters who said they supported the concept of taping official meetings, saw Article 28 as redundant.

Gerald Silverman, chairman of the selectmen, told the audience that Article 34 was unwieldy and unnecessary.

If any citizen wanted a video record of the meetings, they should tape it at home, he suggested.

But, the present system isn't working claimed several voters, who pointed out that, because high school students man the cameras, poor quality broadcasts are being received by the community.

One woman said she recently requested a copy of a recent meeting, only to be told the tape belonged to a secretary who disposed of it when she completed her transcription of the meeting.

In a show of hands, an apparent slim majority backed town officials and defeated the article.

Doyle

An initially-bemused crowd sat and listened as Doherty took a few minutes to rehash explanations he has often-repeated since last year's Town Meeting. Doherty tried to wrap up the discussion and move on, but Doyle wasn't having any of it.

While Doherty attempted to call out the next article, Doyle's bass voice demanded attention, repeatedly interjecting the phrase, "Mr. Moderator," until Doherty threatened to have him physically removed.

Doyle refused to leave the podium, but remained silent as Doherty inroduced the next article. A short time later, Doyle returned to his seat.

The two had a final confrontation later that evening over a procedural rule which ended with the moderator telling Doyle to "take me to court" if he didn't like his ruling.

"We'll see," warned Doyle. Shortly after the showing incident, Doherty, in a short speech, told Andover citizens he would like the town meeting disruption to stop.

"It is because I want you, all of you," he told the audience, "to have an opportunity to come to the town meeting, to sit and attend the town meeting, and not have to listen to any hassle between the moderator and one individual.

"We should be able to come here as ladies and gentlemen, (respecting) the rights of others," he said.

If the meeting is being interrupted, responded Doyle the next day, "I think it was because of comments Mr. Doherty has made."

He referred to a comment from Doherty in last week's TOWNSMAN that counted Doyle as part of a group that is trying to control the moderator's job.

Doyle said "it is not for me to interpret" reaction to the incident at the podium, "but I'll admit I was riled over what Mr. Doherty was doing at the time."

After verbally sparring with Doyle—who, as a town government watchdog, is a familiar sight at various town meetings—for several months after the April, 1987 Town Meeting, Doherty said he challenged him to run for election as moderator.

Doyle ran an aggressive campaign which ended in defeat last week,
